1. In accordance with the Department's commitment to establish a VA Information Technology (IT) Management System, which was approved by the Secretary on March 22, 2006, we will be permanently realigning designated IT functions under the Assistant Secretary for Information and Technology.
2. As a first step in this process, the Deputy Secretary directed that VA IT employees involved in operations and maintenance functions, with the exception of the Office of Inspector General, be detailed to the Office of Information and Technology (OI&T), not later than April 30, 2006. That has been accomplished. Therefore, in accordance with the authority delegated to me by the Deputy Secretary, I am directing that the IT employees of the National Cemetery Administration, currently detailed to OI&T be permanently reassigned to the Office of NCA Operations, Maintenance and Development in OI&T, effective October 1, 2006. This reassignment is in keeping with the agreement reached with VA senior management.
3. These employees will remain at their current duty stations and continue to provide IT services to NCA. Administrative support for these employees will be provided in accordance with the terms of Support Level Agreements that are being executed, and they will be covered under separate appropriations and accounting classification codes that are being established.
4. Staff in my Office, in coordination with staff from the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Information and Technology, have prepared the attached written guidelines and procedures outlining the process that parent organizations will use to carry out this action.

Employee Information Sheet

In order for the Assistant Secretary for Information and Technology (OI&T) to assume management of VA's information technology (IT) operations and maintenance assets, NCA IT employees will be permanently assigned to the NCA Office of Operations, Maintenance and Development in OI&T from their current organizations effective October 1, 2006.

What is a reassignment?

A reassignment is an action that permanently assigns an employee to a different set of duties or to a different position in the same or different organization. The employee's title and series may or may not change; but their grade, pay, and conditions of employment will not.

Why am I being assigned to OI&T?

At the direction of the Assistant Secretary for Human Resources and Administration, IT employees throughout VA, who are performing operations and maintenance work, are being reassigned from their current organizations to OI&T. Since you perform operations and maintenance work, you are in the group of approximately 4,500 employees who are being reassigned.

Will my official position or any other employment conditions change as a result of my reassignment to OI&T?

Position descriptions will be modified to reflect your new organization. Your pay, duty location, work schedule, telework arrangements, union representation, or other conditions of employment will not change. You will continue to be covered by human resources policies that apply to the facility where you are located.

Will I continue to perform the same work?

In most cases, you will continue to perform the same work. You may have some new duties, but the majority of your work will remain the same.

Will I continue to report to the same supervisor?

In most cases, you will report to the same immediate supervisor that you do now. You will probably have a new second-line supervisor who may or may not be located at the facility where you are located. Many supervisory and management employees will report to new first and second-line supervisors.

Will my office location change?

You will continue to occupy the same physical space in accordance with agreements in place with your facility. You will not move to other space unless appropriate management officials from OI&T and the organization proposing the change both agree to the change and all labor relations obligations have been fulfilled.

Will my Human Resources Office change?

No, you will continue to receive administrative and other support services by the same HR office that provides them now. Such services may include but are not limited to human resources, time and attendance, budget, telecommunications, procurement/acquisition, employee assistance, space, utilities, furniture, equipment, supplies, child care subsidies, and parking.

Whom should I contact for more information?

You may contact your local servicing Human Resources Office or your immediate supervisor for more information.
